

C Programming - Assignment 02

1. Write function to check whether given year is leap or not. Write another function to print number of days in given month.
2. Write a function to print given number of terms of Fibonacci series.
3. Write a function to print prime numbers in the given range.
4. Write a function to print a given number in binary format using recursion.
5. Write a function to calculate nth term of the Fibonacci series using recursion.